

The Reserve Firefighter is a part-time position for someone interested in serving the community and eager to perform a physically demanding job at all hours on an immediate response basis. Hours are approximately two per week for training, occasional other training and details, and depending upon emergency incidents, various hours put in at calls.

Reserve Firefighters augment the paid staff and are primarily utilized for structural fires and other major incidents on an “on-call” basis. Other than training, there are no guaranteed hours. Reserve Firefighters are paid quarterly at an hourly rate of $7.66 to $9.25 depending upon qualifications. Anyone meeting the requirements is encouraged to apply.
